CABERNET SAUVIGNON UNFILTERED 2013

JAMES SUCKLING, JANUARY 2016

"I like how this builds on the finish with firm and silky tannins and an attractive austerity. Full body, ultra-fine tannins and a savory finish. This shows the character of the wonderful 2013 vintage. Drink or hold."

ROBERT PARKER, DECEMBER 2015

91+ POINTS

"Classic, somewhat traditional, old-style Cabernet Sauvignon, the 2013 Cabernet Sauvignon Unfiltered shows notes of blackcurrants, dusty/loamy soil notes, moderately high tannins, good spice and earth. Certainly it's meant for aging, and there's no shortage of alcohol (14.5%). The wines have enough to start life slowly and evolve beautifully, much like those of Philip Togni up the street on the top of Spring Mountain. Give this wine 5-10 years and drink it over the following 20-25."

"There's lots to admire in this elegantly styled effort, from the creamy oak to the moderately rich and garceful texture. Ends with a pure, lingering aftertaste. Drink now through 2027. 3,600 cases made."
